WHO WE ARE

Situated in the small historic town of Fort Beaufort which lies where the Kat River and Brak River meet, Alfred Myburg Construction (Pty) Ltd is a result of Alfred Myburg's childhood desire to one day own a construction company.

Born into an impoverished background, for Alfred entrepreneurship provided a much needed lifeline to best hinder the harsh poverty streak. As such, he established his first business venture, a piggery, at the age of 16 as means of supporting his family which lived of an R80 quarterly pension grant.

Pressured by the responsibilities that came with being a breadwinner, in 1997 fresh out of high school, Alfred joined J and R Tosie Construction in 1998 as a labourer to generate income to support his four siblings and extended family. Starting off in pipe-laying and later developing to building, Alfred honed his skills in the trade developing a passion for the industry.

Alfred went on to work for other construction companies such as Robert Brothers Construction and Newco Contractors over a period of three years which further paved way for his own aspirations.

In 2001, Alfred garnered the bravery to finally venture out on his own and established Myburgh Construction as a sole trade company. After 14 years in construction, the sole trader has since been converted to a private entity in 2015.

The company currently employs one permanent and 24 temporary employees and specialises in the construction of low-cost housing, infrastructure development and renovations, civil works, fencing, plumbing, painting and paving among other services.
